“To Provide a Love of Learning”

30th January 2011

Dear Parents and Carers

Ofsted Inspection Report

As you know the school was subject to an Ofsted inspection two weeks ago. We are delighted to report that the school was assessed as Outstanding on all measures. This inspection was one of the first carried out under the new far more rigorous inspection framework that was introduced at the beginning of 2012.

The report rightly and accurately reflects the truly excellent work of everyone associated with the school. For example, every teacher without exception was observed to deliver an outstanding lesson. It shows that the school realises its vision “to provide a love of learning.”

You may have heard the school use the phrase TEAM which stands for “Together, Everyone Achieves More.” It was never truer than in this inspection. This is a tremendous achievement accomplished by everyone – the school leaders, teachers, teaching assistants, support staff and governors past and present. Major contributions were made by people who have moved on to other things.

However, there are two other groups who are also responsible for this achievement. The Outstanding outcome is directly due to the work and attitude of every single pupil in this school. Please thank them on our behalf and there is included in the report a letter from Ofsted directly to them; please read it with them.

The second group is the parents and carers of our pupils; people such as yourselves. Your support and commitment is instrumental. Without the examples you set and your total commitment to the school we could not deliver these outcomes and the school would be a less rewarding place for everyone to work.

The Ofsted report, which is attached and will be published on the Ofsted website in the next week or so, explicitly recognises that we have further ambitions to increase standards still further and we are delighted to reaffirm that to you today.

Once again this is a great community achievement; well done and thank you to everyone.

Yours faithfully
